INDEX TO VOL. LXVI

The titles of articles are printed in italics

ABD

ABDUL HAMID II and his Court, Personal Recollections of, 69–88
Aerial warfare of the future, 450–456
Agriculture, British decline and German expansion in, 389–406
Alcoholic liquors, Diminished consumption of, 127–142
American boys and girls, Mr. George's republic for reclaiming, 503–508
American Graces, Three, of 1816, 1058–1075
American State Militia or National Guard, 910–920
Anarchism and assassination in Bengal, 18–28
Anglo-Russian alliance, 209–225
Arctic exploration, British expedition, 586–597
Armaments, British and German: our Inadequate Expeditionary Force, 577–585
Art (L') Français Contemporain, 457–473
Art, Modern, 'Slump' in, 326–330
Art, Victorian, and the Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood, 307–325
Arundel (Sir Arundel), Decentralisation of Government in India, 143–157
Assessment anomalies, suggested reform, 568–576
Avebury (Lord), The Finance Bill, 743–756

BACON (Francis) as a Poet, 267–282
Barclay (Mr. Edwyn), a Reply to, concerning 'True Temperance' and the Public House, 127–142
Barker (J. Ellis), The Land, the People, and the General Election, 389–406; The Land, the Landlords, and the People, 549–567; Unionist or Socialist Land Reform? 1091–1110
Barran (Mrs.), The George Junior Republic, 503–508

BUD

Barrès (Maurice), The Evolution of, 634–644
Bathurst (Katharine), Work for the Wealthy Unemployed, 684–690
Battine (Capt. Cecil), British and German Armaments: our Inadequate Expeditionary Force, 577–85
Beaconsfield (Lord) as a Tariff Reformer, 934–948
Beaunier (André), L'Art Français Contemporain, 457–473
Beeching (Rev. Canon), A Last Word to Mr. George Greenwood, 288–292
Bengal Civilian's View of the Indian Deportations, A, 18–28
Bengal, Partition of, and anti-British agitation, 181–194
Betterment or unearned increment, Taxation of, in Germany and France, 377–388
Birth-rate, The diminishing, in England, 97–108
Blaunier (André), Contemporary Politics in France, 870–886
Bradley (Rose M.), Frère Jacques, 109–119; On the Road in Corsica, 645–662
British and German Armaments: our Inadequate Expeditionary Force, 577–585
British and German Navies compared, 434–449
British Arctic Expedition, A Plea for a, 586–597
British Army, The, inadequacy of its Expeditionary Force, 577–585
British Art at Venice, 89–96
British Empire, Canada's position in the, 704–715
British Navy, The, and its personnel, 1008–1021
British Rule in India, The Effects of 527–548
Budget land valuation proposals, The, 568–576
Budget, The House of Lords and the, 195–208

BUD

Budget, The, and British agriculture, 389–406
Budget, The, and Social Revolution, 158–167
Budget, The, and the German increment tax, 377–388
Budget, The, its disastrous effect on commerce and industries, 743–756

'CABLE' Reform, 38–46
Canada and the defence of the Empire, 1–6
Canada, The Attitude of, 704–715
Carrel (F.), Psycho-Physical Forces, 1076–1084
Censorship of Stage Plays, The, 974–989
Channing (Sir Francis Allston), Mr. Gladstone and the Crisis of 1909, 921–933
Cherubim and Seraphim, meaning of, 691–703
Christianity, caste, and the awakening of India, 361–376
Church of England, Marriage Law in the, 257–266
Cobdenism and Free Trade, Lord Beaconsfield's views upon, 934–948
Colette Baudoche, and other novels by Maurice Barrès, 634–644
Collier (John), The 'Slump' in Modern Art, 326–330
Collier (Price) on England and the English, 36–37
Colonies, Our, the 'All-Red Route,' and Imperial defence, 1–6
Colour Question, South African Union and the, 245–256
Colvin (Elliot G.), The Effects of British Rule in India, 527–541
Comenius (John Amos) and Milton, 607–617
Comet, Halley's, The Story of, 509–526
Commons, House of, its control over finance, 921–933
Conservatives, The, and Ireland, 949–964
Consols, The Depreciation of, and a Remedy, 1085–1090
Contemporary Politics in France, 870–886
Corsica, An Easter Saturday festa in, 109–119
Corsica, On the Road in, 645–662
Coverdale's version of the Psalms, 120–126
Cox (Lady), Twenty-one Years with our Indian Fellow-Subjects, 887–897
Cox (Sir Edmund C.), The Effects of British Rule in India, 542–548
Creed of Imperialism, The, 29–37
Cult of 'Teddy Bear,' The, 56–68

FIN

DANTE'S Self-Portraiture, 838–854
Death Duties, Are they an Economically Sound Form of Taxation? 7–17
Debussy: his Science and his Music, 492–502
Decentralisation of Government in India, 143–157
Defence Problem of Scandinavia, The, 898–909
Dicey (Edward), Hindu Students in England, 349–360; another view, 598–606
Digby (Mr. William), his Prosperous British India criticised, 527–541
Dillon (Dr. E. J.), Great Britain and Russia: an Alliance or an Illusion? 209–225
Dimnet (Abbé Ernest), The Evolution of Maurice Barrès, 634–644
Divorce and marriage, Roman Catholic and High Church views concerning, 257–266
Doctors and their critics, 827–837
Domestic infelicity of literary men and women, 423–433
Dramas of Roswitha, a Benedictine nun of mediæval Saxony, 814–826
Dravidian races of India, The, and Brahman agitators, 361–376

EASTERN and Western ideals, Difference between, 598–606
Economic Science, The Missing Essentials in, 331–348; 716–732
Education, The views of Milton, Vives, and Comenius compared, 607–617
Educative Value of the Modern Museum, The, 663–672
Ego, The cult of, and Maurice Barrès, 634–644
Elder Brother, The Fallacy of the, 804–813
Empire, The Unity and Defence of the, 1–6
Erroll (Colonel the Earl of), The House of Lords and Universal Service, 293–298
Extinction of the Upper Classes, The, 97–108

FALLACY of the Elder Brother, The, 804–813
Feilding (Hon. Everard), Recent Experiments in the 'Physical Phenomena' of Spiritualism, 789–803
Ferrer (Francisco), The Case of: a Confidential Friend's Testimony, 777–788
Finance Bill and the Lords' veto, 195–208

FIN

Finance Bill, The, 743–756
Fleet, the, The Truth about the Manning of, 1008–1021
France, Contemporary Politics in, 870–886
French Art of to-day, 457–473
French music-drama, Debussy's Pelléas et Mélisande, 492–502
French novels by Maurice Barrès, 634–644
Frère Jacques, 109–119
Fuller (Sir Bampfylde), The Foundations of Indian Loyalty, 181–194; Saul among the Prophets: a Philosopher's Plea for Religious Education, 1032–1040

GAIRDNER (Dr. James), Henry VIII and the Monasteries: a Reply to the Rev. G. Monroe Royce, 47–55
General Election, The Land, the People, and the, 389–406
Genius, Men and women of, their matrimonial failures, 423–433
George Junior Republic, The, 503–8
German and British naval rivalry, 577–585
German naval expansion and the British Fleet, 434–449
German progress in agriculture and industries, 389–406
German view of Imperial defence, 56–68
Germany, Austria, Italy, and the international outlook, 168–180
Germany and England, Of Things Theatrical in: a Comparison, 990–1007
Gilbey (Sir Walter), The Educative Value of the Modern Museum, 663–672
Gladstone (Mr.) and the Crisis of 1909, 921–933
Government in India, Decentralisation of, 143–157
Great Britain and Canada, Relations between, 704–715
Great Britain and Russia: an Alliance or an Illusion? 209–225
Greek colony, A, in Corsica, 647–653
Greenwood (Mr. George) on Bacon-Shakespeare theory, reply to, 279–282; A Last Word to, 283–292
Gwynn (Stephen), Ireland's Need, 618–633

HALLEY'S Comet, The Story of, 509–526
Harrison (Alfred H.), A Plea for a British Arctic Expedition, 586–97
Harrison (Austin), The Cult of 'Teddy Bear,' 56–68

IRI

Harrison (Frederic), The Tennyson Centenary, 226–233
Harrison (Mrs. Frederic), Then and Now, 1051–1057
Henry VIII and the Monasteries: a Reply to the Rev. G. Monroe Royce, 47–55
Heward (E. Vincent), The Story of Halley's Comet, 509–526
Hindu arts and crafts and the need of technical education, 887–897
Hindu sedition and the Dravidian races, 361–376
Hindu students in England, 349–360; 598–606; 598–606
Hinduism and caste, and non-religious education in India, 362–376
Holiday in Corsica, A, 645–662
Huish (Marcus B.), British Art at Venice, 89–96
Hurd (Archibald S.), Our 'Lost' Naval Supremacy, 434–449; Truth about the Manning of the Fleet, 1008–1021

IMPERIAL Democracy, Unionist Opportunism and, 733–742
Imperialism, Sane, The 'Native' Problem and, 234–244
Imperialism, The Creed of, 29–37
Imperialist Austria: an Impression from Vienna, 168–180
Income tax and death duties compared, 7–17
Increment of land values, ground rents and undeveloped land, 757–776
Increment Tax, The, 377–388
India, A visit to, 673–683
India and Africa, Education of natives in, and the franchise, 234–244
India, British Rule in, The Effects of, 527–548
India, Dravidian races in, 361–376
India, The Out-Castes of, 1022–1031
India, Unrest in, Some Misconceptions about the, 361–376
Indian Fellow-Subjects, Our, Twenty-one Years with, 887–897
Indian Deportations, A Bengal Civilian's View of the, 18–28
Indian Loyalty, The Foundations of, 181–194
Indian students in England, 349–360
Indian Students in England: another Point of View, 598–606
International Fine Arts Exhibition at Venice, 89–96
Ireland under the rule of the priest, 407–422; 618–633
Ireland's Need, 618–633
Irish Policy and the Conservatives, 949–964
Irish saints, Lives of, in the Lismore Manuscript, 474–483

JAC

JACQUES (Frère), 109–119
Johnston (Sir Harry H.), The 'Native' Problem and Sane Imperialism, 234–244
Jones (Roderick), South African Union and the Colour Question, 245–256

KEETON (Miss A. E.), Debussy: his Science and his Music, 492–502
Kemp-Welch (Mrs. W.), A Tenth-Century Dramatist: Roswitha the Nun, 814–826
Kenny (P. D.), His Parochial Majesty, 407–422; reply to, 618–633
Killanin (Lord), Ab Occidente ad Orientem: an Impressionist Study en route to India, 673–683
Kingston (Gertrude), Of Things Theatrical in Germany and England: a Comparison, 990–1007
Kirk (Kenneth E.), Indian Students in England: another Point of View, 598–606

LAND Reform, Unionist or Socialist? 1091–1110
Land taxation and the Budget, 377–388, 568–576, 757–776
Land, The, the Landlords, and the People, 549–567
Land, The, the People, and the General Election, 389–406
Leonardo da Vinci as Sculptor, 1041–1050
Lethbridge (Sir Roper), Lord Beaconsfield as a Tariff Reformer, 934–948
Lismore, The Book of, 474–483
Londoner, Faults of the, 299–306
Londoner, Virtues of the, 484–491
Lord (Walter Frewen), The Creed of Imperialism, 29–37
Lords, House of, an American appreciation of the, 36–37
Lords, The House of, and the Budget, 195–208
Lords, The House of, and Universal Service, 298–298
Low (Sidney), Matrimony and the Man of Letters, 423–433
Lyttelton (Mrs. Alfred), The Book of Lismore, 474–483

McCURDY (Edward), Leonardo da Vinci as Sculptor, 1041–1050
Madras (Bishop of), The Out-Castes of India, 1022–1031
Malcolm (Ian), his article on Ireland replied to, 618–633
Mallock (W. H.), The Missing Essentials in Economic Science, 331–348, 716–732; Phantom Millions, 757–776

PEA

Marriage Law in the Church of England, 257–266
Marriott (J. A. R.), The House of Lords and the Budget, 195–208
Marx, Mill, and Socialist theories of 'value,' 331–348
Matrimony and the Man of Letters, 423–433
Mayor (H. B.), The Fallacy of the Elder Brother, 804–813
Medical Priestcraft, The Question of, 827–837
Militia system in the United States, 910–920
Modern artists and the picture-buying public, 326–330
Mohammedans in Bengal, their grievances and aspirations, 189–194
Monasteries, Henry VIII and the: a Reply to the Rev. G. Monroe Royce, 47–55
Mond (Alfred), The Increment Tax, 377–388
Museum, Modern, The Educative Value of the, 663–672

NAQUET (Alfred), The Case of Francisco Ferrer: A Confidential Friend's Testimony, 777–788
National collections and local museums, Instructional use of, 663–672
National defence and compulsory military training, 293–298
'National Guard,' The: a Hint from the United States, 910–920
Nationalists of India and facts concerning British rule, 542–548
'Native' Problem, The, and Sane Imperialism, 234–244
Naval Supremacy, Our 'Lost,' 434–449
Norway and Sweden and the common defence of Scandinavia, 898–909
Nowicki (Adam), Can Russia escape the Fate of Poland? 965–973

OCCIDENTE (Ab) ad Orientem: an Impressionist Study en route to India, 673–683
O'Neill (Æneas), Imperialist Austria: an Impression from Vienna, 168–180

PALMER (Rev. Dr. Smythe), What were the Seraphim? 691–703
Pan-Germanic ambitions and Austria's new policy, 168–180
Parliamentary parties in France, 870–886
Parochial Majesty, His, 407–422; reply to, 618–633
Pearson (Norman), The Virtuosi, 855–869

PEA

Peasant proprietorship in England and in Germany, 549–567
Phantom Millions, 757–776
'Physical Phenomena' of Spiritualism, Recent Experiments in the, 789–803
Pilkington (Col. Henry), Irish Policy and the Conservatives, 949–964
Poets, English, Tennyson's place among, 226–238
Polar exploration, suggested sledge expedition, 586–597
Politics in France, Contemporary, 870–886
Pollock (Lieut.-Colonel Alsager), The 'National Guard': a Hint from the United States, 910–920
Poynder (Sir John Dickson), The Valuation Proposals of the Government, 568–576
Praed (Mackworth), The Depreciation of Consols, and a Remedy, 1085–1090
Prayer-Book Psalter, The Revision of the, 120–126
Pre-Raphaelites, Spencer-Stanhope and the, 307–325
Psychical research and spiritualistic phenomena, 789–803
Psycho-Physical Forces, 1076–1084
Public House, 'True Temperance' and the: a Reply to Mr. Edwyn Barclay, 127–142
Public School ideals, and relations between the master and the boys, 804–813
Purgatorio, The author's character revealed in the, 838–854

REFORMATION, Causes of the, and dissolution of monasteries, 47–55
Religious Education, a Philosopher's Plea for, 1032–1040
Revision of the Prayer-Book Psalter, The, 120–126
Ridge (W. Pett), Faults of the Londoner, 299–306; Virtues of the Londoner, 481–491
Roberts (Lord), his Bill for compulsory military service, 293–298
Roman Catholic priesthood, The, and Ireland's decay, 407–422; 618–633
Roosevelt (Mr.) on British government in India, 528
Rosenbaum (S.), The Budget and Social Revolution, 158–167
Roswitha the Nun, A Tenth-Century Dramatist, 814–826
Royal Society, The, and its founders, 855–869
Royce (Rev. G. Monroe), a reply to, concerning Henry VIII and the Monasteries, 47–55

STO

Russia, Can She Escape the Fate of Poland? 965–978
Russia, Great Britain and: an Alliance or an Illusion? 209–225

SASSOON (Sir Edward), 'Cable' Reform, 38–46
Saul among the Prophets: a Philosopher's Plea for Religious Education, 1032–1040
Scandinavia, The Defence Problem of, 898–909
School teaching for leisured ladies, 684–690
Schoolmaster, The, as an elder brother, 804–813
Schuster (Sir Felix), Are the Death Duties an Economically Sound Form of Taxation? 7–17
Schvan (August), The Defence Problem of Scandinavia, 898–909
Sedition and murder in Bengal, and deportation of undesirables, 18–28
Seraphim, What were the? 691–703
Shakespeare and Bacon, their writings and blunders compared, 267–282
Shakespeare as player and dramatist, Contemporary evidence, 283–292
Shebbeare (Rev. Charles J.), Marriage Law in the Church of England, 257–266
'Slump' in Modern Art, The, 326–330
Small holdings and co-operative banks as a solution of the land problem, 549–567
Smith (Adam) and the principles of taxation, 7–17
Social Revolution, The Budget and, 158–167
Socialism and economics, 331–348
Socialist State, Apportionment of rewards for labour in a, 716–732
Socialists and Radicals in the French Parliament, 870–886
South African natives and the franchise, 241–244
South African Union and the Colour Question, 245–256
Spanish Government, The, and Francisco Ferrer, 777–788
Spencer-Stanhope (Roddam), Pre-Raphaelite, 307–325
Spiritualism, Recent Experiments in the 'Physical Phenomena' of, 789–803
Sprigge (Dr. S. Squire), The Question of Medical Priestcraft, 827–837
Stirling (Mrs.), Roddam Spencer-Stanhope, Pre-Raphaelite, 307–25; A Transatlantic Invasion of 1816, 1058–1075
Stoker (Bram), The Censorship of Stage Plays, 974–989

STR

Streatfeild (H. C.), A Bengal Civilian's View of the Indian Deportations, 18–28
Sullivan (Sir Edward), Francis Bacon as a Poet, 267–282
Sweden, Norway, and Denmark, their military and naval policy, 898–909

TARIFF Reformers and the Unionist party, 733–742
Taxation, First principles of, as applied to the death duties, 7–17
Taxation, New, the Budget proposals for, 158–167
Taxation, Powers of the Lords in regard to, 195–208
'Teddy Bear,' The Cult of, 56–68
Telegraphic communication within the Empire, cheaper cable rates, 38–46
Tennyson Centenary, The, 226–233
Tenth-Century Dramatist, A: Roswitha the Nun, 814–826
Then and Now, 1051–1057
Therapeutics and legislation, medical practitioners and quacks, 827–837
Town life as seen in London, 299–306, 484–491
Transatlantic Invasion of 1816, A, 1058–1075
'True Temperance' and the Public House: a Reply to Mr. Edwyn Barclay, 127–142
Tsar, The, the Duma, and Russia's foreign policy, 209–225
Tupper (Sir Charles), The Unity and Defence of the Empire, 1–6
Turkey, The ex-Sultan and his Court, 69–88
Twenty-one Years with our Indian Fellow-Subjects, 887–897

UNIONIST Opportunism and Imperial Democracy, 733–742
Unionist or Socialist Land Reform? 1001–1011
United South Africa and the political status of the natives, 245–256
Unity and Defence of the Empire, The, 1–6
Universal Service, The House of Lords and, 293–298

WYL

Unrest in India, Some Misconceptions about the, 361–376
Upper Classes, The Extinction of the, 97–108

VALUATION Proposals, The, of the Government, 568–576
Value, Theories of, and rewards for labour, 716–732
Vambéry (Professor A.), Personal Recollections of Abdul Hamid II and his Court, 69–88
Vaughan (Rev. Canon), The Revision of the Prayer-Book Psalter, 120–126
Venice, British Art at, 89–96
Virtuosi, The, 855–869
Vives (Juan Luis) and Milton on education, 607–617

WARE (Fabian), Unionist Opportunism and Imperial Democracy, 733–742
Watson (Professor Foster), A Suggested Source of Milton's Tractate of Education, 607–617
Wealthy Unemployed, Work for the, 684–690
Welldon (Bishop), Dante's Self-Portraiture, 838–854
Western mind, The, under the spell of the East, 673–683
Whetham (W. C. D.) and Whetham (Mrs.), The Extinction of the Upper Classes, 97–108
Wilkins (John), founder of the Royal Society, 855–869
Wilson (George B.), 'True Temperance' and the Public House: a Reply to Mr. Edwyn Barclay, 127–142
Wings of War, The, 450–456
Women, Wealthy, Educational work as a pastime for, 684–690
Wrong (Professor George M.), The Attitude of Canada, 704–715
Wyatt (Harold F.), The Wings of War, 450–456
Wyllie (Sir Curzon), Assassination of, Indian law students and the, 349–360

PRINTED BY
SPOTTISWOODE AND CO. LTD., LONDON
COLCHESTER AND ETON